TESTIMONIAL

The house design as well as the insulated walls kept us comfortable during this unusual hot summer while the fan clears out any residual heat from the day, pulling in fresh cool night air through the HEPA ventilation system. The resulting comfortable temperature makes for a restful, sound sleep. We feel confident that winters will be just as comfortable as the SIP walls hold in the radiant floor's heat. We can definitely say we are 'house proud' when we drive up the street and see our beautiful Zero Energy Ready Home.
